Wellness and Community Mini Grants Request for Proposals

Wellness and Community Mini-Grants

What: Student-led proposals that enhance wellness and community in the School of Medicine

When: Due Aug 30

Criterion:
Originality,
Feasibility,
Impact,
Sustainability,
Dissemination,
Collaboration

Do you have an idea that will strengthen community, engagement, and wellness within the School of Medicine? UME and Graduate Studies students with innovative ideas can apply for mini-grants to get their proposals off the ground.

Submit a short proposal that describes your project, who is involved and how it fulfills the selection criteria: originality, feasibility, impact, sustainability, dissemination, and collaboration. Awards will be up to $500 per project.

To apply, submit a PDF that is no longer than 2 pages (8 ½ by 11 inch pages), double spaced and written in 11-point font or larger. The document must include a project title; names and titles of all persons involved in the project; a background statement; a basic budget that includes supplies and expenses for the funding period; and a description that addresses each of the criteria that will help determine the award winners.

Proposal must be submitted to Alana Rajnicek via email (rajnicek@ohsu.edu) by 5 PM, August 30th.

Mini-Grants are sponsored by the School of Medicine
